What is Glossy Reflection Overlay?

A Glare can be described as a reflection on the screen or a transparent surface that makes it difficult to discern. The cause of the glare is light sources such as sunlight or indoor lightings such as overhead and task lamps. The appearance of glare is an indication of the real world. Realistic digital photo mockups or digital frames always require reflection light Rays. However, the sharp and straight glow has a subliminal purpose of appealing and having an entirely new experience. Take a look at the latest monitors and phone advertisements. The reflection rays that shine on this type of mockup of the device indicate clarity and premium materials.

This overlay includes creative Photoshop mockups, frames, and printable template templates. This collection will make your photos appear eye-catching excellent and breathtaking.

This is 3Motional, and you are most welcome.
