Blender Market - Powerbackup:

PowerBackup is a tool designed to streamline the backup and restoration of Blender and addon preferences. It allows users to save preferences as JSON files within an archive and easily restore specific settings without affecting others. Unlike manual methods, which involve copying entire preference files, PowerBackup enables selective restoration, saving time and effort. It is especially useful for power users who frequently customize their Blender setup or work with add-ons, helping them quickly recover or transfer preferences without needing to reset their entire configuration. The tool was created to save time and improve workflow efficiency.
