Making a commercial shot of a perfume product: Welcome to Workshop #46 of the Pro Club Interactive Education Program, a tutorial on advanced product photography techniques. Engage in the assignment and receive personalized feedback from the instructor!

In product photography, particularly for small items like jewelry, the choice of props plays a pivotal role. A well-selected prop elevates the shot and introduces that touch of magic, seamlessly bringing the entire composition together. While the product remains the focal point, props are significant in the visual narrative.

By following the guidance of Alex Koloskov and his team, you can potentially become a renowned Product and Commercial Photographer. Our commitment is to equip you with knowledge and support, aiding you in reaching your maximum potential. Throughout our workshop series, we unveil secrets and showcase high-quality work, providing valuable insights that may spark your creativity and offer endless possibilities to achieve your desired outcomes.

Join us in this workshop to ignite your imagination, explore new horizons, and uncover the secrets of advanced product photography. Your journey towards excellence begins here!
