RARE Percussion RARE Textures Vol 4: Spacey echo chambers? Instruments for texture invented in Brazil were constructed from bottlecaps or door keys. You'll find a variety of diverse textures that you won't get anywhere else today.

Rare textures bring never-before samples of instruments created recently at various locations around Earth. They are all authentic instruments recorded and played in various methods to bring color and appearance to any track.

The instruments we played with included door keys, bottlecaps, bells, seeds, new texture instruments, butterflies, cocoons of the butterfly from Africa, and much more. We mixed and designed sounds to use in your music production. We also left some unfinished takes to get the natural texture and sound.

Keep an eye out for more releases from RARE Percussion.
