With a point-and-click approach, TrueTERRAIN 5 claims to change how terrains are made in Blender by integrating tools that allow one to design lifelike environments easily. The product has a clean user interface with a broad range of presets and features, making creating detailed landscapes easier. TrueTERRAIN also incorporates ACES colour space and AgX workflow into the product, which allows for precision in colour reproduction. The robust toolset is filled with bespoke scattering options, realistic water simulations for oceans, lakes, and rivers, and effortless material application allows these artists to make their dreams a reality.
