I like people. Color of eyes, expressions on the face smile, look. That's probably the reason there are so many portrait shots I take in my work. I pulled this set of presets from the grain of my best portraits I then refined them to make the filters are universal and I'm now eager to share them with you! Each filter is an original creator's discovery, and any of them works when using images from professional cameras and mobile devices. Additionally, these filters are designed to be used on travel cards, nature photos featuring water bodies, and vegetation Street and studio shots. Explore different presets for your photos starting with films like Portra #1, to classic Black and White Portra #6, play around and discover your own style!
