What is Typekit Animated Titles?

"Typekit Animated Titles" likely refers to a set of animated title templates or assets that are designed to be used in video editing or motion graphics software. These templates often come with pre-designed text animations and effects, making it easier for video editors and motion graphic designers to create professional-looking animated titles for their video projects.

To use "Typekit Animated Titles," you would typically need to obtain the template pack or assets from a source like a marketplace, a design resource website, or a motion graphics template library. Once acquired, you can import these templates into your video editing or motion graphics software, customize them to match your project's style and content, and then incorporate them into your video project.

These animated title templates can be a valuable resource for video creators, as they can add a professional and polished look to video productions without the need for extensive animation work from scratch.
