Thunder Video Converter Pro v5.6 (Mac): The content describes a software tool designed for batch video processing.

include the ability to:

- Batch convert videos, using embedded FFmpeg for support of nearly all video formats, enabling super-fast conversions.
- Batch trim or cut videos, allowing multiple videos to be edited simultaneously.
- Batch extracts audio from videos, providing an efficient way to separate audio tracks from multiple video files.
- Batch adjusts video and audio speed, allowing users to speed up or slow down both video and audio in bulk.
- The tool is optimized for handling large volumes of files efficiently.

The software offers powerful batch video processing features, including fast conversion, trimming, cutting, and audio extraction.

- Ultra-fast Conversion: Converts a 1-hour video in 2-6 minutes with hardware acceleration, reducing file size by up to 80% without quality loss.
- Batch Operations: Supports batch video trimming, cutting, merging, rotating, speeding up, and slowing down both video and audio.
- Video Quality Comparison: Allows easy comparison of original and converted video quality.
- Conversion History: Tracks conversion history to help users optimize settings.
- Cloud Sync: Supports iCloud for syncing settings and sharing video conversion rules.
- Format and Hardware Support: Compatible with most video formats and devices, with customizable conversion parameters and lossless, fast conversion.
- Additional Tools: Features FFplay for video previews, auto-recognition of videos in subfolders, and task management for multiple video conversions.

This software is designed for users looking for efficient, high-quality video processing with easy-to-use batch functionality and customization.
