Recorded in the field This sample library contains various sounds that are versatile. The sample pack is downloadable and includes 144 WAV files and includes a variety of components to make your own sound sequences: Industrial underground lab background sounds metal impact, crackles and electronic signals, rusty doors freight elevators and many more. As with the other Bluezone samples, it is possible to are able to incorporate these inspiring elements into commercial projects without worrying about licensing fees.

Ginno Legaspi review - SoundBytes Magazine:

A brand new sample library is available from Bluezone Corporation's growing collection. Dark Mesa gives you an assortment of ambiences and effects that work well for industrial, cinematic game and television music. The 144 samples were developed by field recordings in order to give the pack a distinct style and variety. Sounds include background ambients metal sounds, distortions, crackles, signals and many more. The entire collection (samples) are provided with 24-bit/44.1kHz audio format in WAV. In terms of production, quality is concerned Bluezone has set the bar higher and this is as great as I've come to expect from them.
