How to Animate Easy and Fun Motion Graphics Gifts: Begin your animation journey with this easy, fun class!

Hongshu Guo, a motion artist based in Toronto, Canada, is interested in animation. As one of Skillshare's top Instructors, he has guided thousands of students along the path he began following over seven years ago. It's the pathway toward professional animation work and a sense of creative satisfaction. Through this Skillshare Live session, recorded on Zoom and featuring the participation of Skillshare members, Hongshu will teach you how to start your journey into motion graphics and have a blast during the process!

Everybody has to begin at some point, and this course starts with a brief overview of Motion Graphics 101, where Hongshu ensures that everybody is acquainted with the fundamentals. After that, he'll show you how to utilize Adobe After Effects to enhance your illustration skills. Then, you'll create a GIF animation with him! Although it was designed with beginners in mind, there's an option for everyone in this enjoyable and educational course.
