What is Field and Foley Sounds of the Jurassic

The field and foley sounds of the Jurassic period are sounds associated with the environment and creatures that existed during the Jurassic period, which lasted from approximately 201 to 145 million years ago. These sounds are typically used in movies, documentaries, and other forms of media to create a realistic audio atmosphere for scenes set in the Jurassic era. They aim to give viewers a sense of what it might have been like to be in that prehistoric world.
