Audrey Woulard – Paint In Your Light: The video contains a three-image edit! It will be made available to view immediately after purchase. Additionally, it will be accessible for life.

Learning to use light can bring any idea to reality. The ability to change the way light is created within the post can lead to many possibilities, even for those who don't have the time, the equipment, or the motivation to alter the light presented to us.

I designed this edit to help bring to life an array of styles without the tools. Knowing how light works will open the door to new designs in your work.

Learn how to create the lighting I want in post-processing to produce unique images each time. The result will leave everyone wondering what the natural lighting source was when the image was created. The result is a bright image without looking like it was edited.

I will also discuss the requirements I had to meet to create the correct document, and I think it is crucial to keep this in mind.

The images included in the video tutorials were made using ambient lighting and cameras, and no reflectors or artificial lighting were employed.

This video contains helpful information you can implement in your work.
