This plugin allows you Use (or Eliminate ) the chromatic aberration Result to a coating.

This is a known workflow of dividing a comp into Red, Green, And Blue channels, scaling among these and recombining the stations, wrapped into one effect.

The procedure of incorporating chromatic aberration is fairly straight forward in the event that you get it done to one picture.

If you try adding it into a layer with an alpha channel, then which you Afterwards wish to mix over a background picture, you are going to get into trouble.

From the tutorial, you can see Unique approaches to this Issue, And the way the plugin can help you in every one of them.

Update Notice: You update to this variant for complimentary.
