What is the Infrasound Kit?

"Infrasound" refers to sound waves that exist below the threshold of human hearing, typically below 20 Hz. These low-frequency sounds find applications in various fields, including music production, where they are utilized to craft atmospheric and subsonic effects.

In the context of music production, an "Infrasound Kit" could be a curated collection of sound samples or presets specifically crafted to generate or integrate infrasound frequencies into musical compositions. This kit may encompass deep bass tones, subsonic pulses, and other elements that are designed to be more sensed and felt rather than audibly perceived.
