- A physically correct planet shader, with complete control.
- It's simple to get incredible results.
- The process of re-creating all the information required to build a planet using the color map.
- Multiple presets of various atmospheric layers that can be controlled completely
- Each layer of atmosphere is adjustable with just a single node
- Complete control over the cloud shader
- The correct physical light source is the sun.
- Space environment Generator with procedural design.
- The City Generator for the world built on the color of the base
- Process Planets, and Clouds Generator with tons of Presets
