Unity Asset - Inventory 2 Game Creator 2 by Catsoft Works v2.8.16: With this comprehensive asset, developers can create immersive gameplay experiences featuring inventory management, item crafting, and merchant trading functionalities. The asset is designed to seamlessly integrate with Unity's Render Pipeline, including the Built-in Render Pipeline, Universal Render Pipeline (URP), and High Definition Render Pipeline (HDRP), ensuring compatibility across various platforms and rendering needs.

Users can quickly define and customize items within the inventory system, specifying details such as name, description, sprite, and game object representation. Custom properties can also be defined for dynamic runtime changes and sockets for item attachment and equipment requirements. Additionally, developers can create custom outcomes for item consumption, adding depth and variety to gameplay mechanics.

The asset includes a versatile Bag component for storing items, which can be attached to any game object. Users can define UI skins for inventory interfaces, facilitating interactions such as opening player inventories, managing chest items, or looting defeated enemies. Merchants, implemented as components attached to bags, allow for trading between two bags, each with its own UI skin and exchange rules.

Furthermore, the asset supports multiple currencies, enabling developers to implement complex economic systems with various coin values. Loot tables can randomly generate items and wealth based on weighted percentages, adding unpredictability and excitement to gameplay experiences.

With built-in support for saving and loading and seamless integration with Game Creator's visual scripting, developers can quickly implement and manage inventory systems within their Unity projects. The asset package includes source code, examples, and templates, providing developers with the resources to create rich, engaging gameplay experiences.
