Blender Market - Render Tools:

Render Tools is a set of convenient tools designed for Blender users to effortlessly generate ID Render passes and Mask Render for selected objects. Comparable to the functionality found in Corona Render and Vray, these tools provide enhanced control during post-production.

ID Pass Tool: With just two clicks, you can seamlessly apply random ID colors to the entire scene and render the final ID Pass image. Additionally, you have the flexibility to individually assign ID colors to each object, allowing for precise control over the identification process.

Mask Pass Tool: The Mask Pass Tool proves to be invaluable for rapidly selecting specific objects for rendering. Simply choose the desired object or objects, press "Render Mask Pass," and obtain a final render solely for the selected objects with transparent backgrounds. This feature streamlines the process of updating the final image without the need to re-render the entire scene. Much like the functionality offered in Corona and Vray, this tool facilitates efficient rendering of masked objects for seamless integration into the final composition.
