Why should I utilize Express Table?

Suppose your work involves video compositing in which you display data in motion to draw attention from viewers. In that case, it's an excellent idea to present it using stylized animated data tables to give a more memorable impression. While some information may be presented using charts or graphs, other data require only tables. Creating every table element is tedious, and there is no need to waste your time. With Express Table, the user can populate your table with data in just one click. If you need to, you can modify or edit the table templates and fill in the table again. The table templates will be ready.

- Click to fill in the table
- Supports all character encodings for csv characters.
- Import/Export Table Templates
- Table Templates are stored in the XML file
- Simple and easy to use
- Flexible settings
