IronZIP is a C# ZIP archive library designed for seamless archive management in .NET projects. Prioritizing accuracy, ease of use, and speed, it supports ZIP, TAR, GZIP, and BZIP2 formats for creating, reading, and extracting archives. Compatible with .NET 8, 7, 6, Core, Standard, and Framework, IronZip offers a user-friendly API suitable for desktop, mobile, and cloud environments.

Versatility is a key feature, supporting a wide range of project types, including web, mobile, desktop, and console applications. IronZip functions across diverse operating systems and processors, providing flexibility for Windows, Mac, Linux, iOS, Android, x64, x86, and ARM architectures.

With advanced features such as custom compression, password-protected ZIP archives, and file entry management, simplifies archive-related tasks for developers. Its compatibility with popular IDEs, binary certification, and cross-platform functionality make it a reliable choice for efficient ZIP archive management in C# projects.
