ArrowChat is a self-hosted live chat solution powered by a PHP script and jQuery, designed to integrate with your website seamlessly. It allows users to engage in text and video conversations, and installing it on any existing website is a breeze. Here's a closer look at its features:

Automatic User Login: ArrowChat effortlessly logs in to your website users when they log into your site, eliminating the need for additional coding.

Usernames: It supports usernames in various languages with full UTF-8 compatibility.

Profile Links: ArrowChat conveniently retrieves a user's profile link and provides it to other users for easy access.

Avatars: The chat software automatically detects the avatar system in place and displays a user's avatar accordingly.

Friends List: The online user list dynamically updates as users add or remove friends from their list.

Group Permissions: You can control and restrict features within ArrowChat based on a user's group through the admin panel.

Mobile Chat: ArrowChat offers a mobile-friendly version, ensuring that users can access chat functionality on any device from anywhere. It pops up seamlessly on mobile devices.

Fully Customizable: The administration panel allows you to tweak settings, change colors, view logs, and perform other customizations with ease.

Video Chat: ArrowChat supports video chat on desktop and mobile devices through built-in support for agora.io and Vonage, enabling users to engage in video conversations.

Experience the convenience of adding live chat and video capabilities to your website within minutes with ArrowChat.
