These presets will work on mobile devices.

Mobile Lightroom can be used. The presets should be imported into Lightroom CC first, then synced with your mobile devices.

Which file types can be used with these presets

They support all image file types, however, they were made for raw images. Images that have been graded already or images that are too compressed may have lower quality results.

These presets will work with all images in one click.

Most of the time, yes. They should look great if your image has been properly exposed. These profiles are meant to be a guideline, but you can make changes as necessary. I have used Adobe Color Profiles. These will be used by Adobe as the base. The sliders can be adjusted without losing this look. These work in the same way ICM profiles if you are using Capture One edition.
