What is Retro Trip?

A music visualizer is a graphic representation of music, often synchronized to the audio, that provides a visual element to accompany the music. To create a retro-style music visualizer loop, you can use software like Adobe After Effects.

Typically, AE (Adobe After Effects) projects are created by designers and video producers for various purposes, including creating music visualizers, motion graphics, animations, and more. These projects can vary widely in terms of style, design, and functionality, depending on the creator's vision and the specific needs of a project.
