The 3D model of Game Girl is ideal for dating or dress-up games and as a VTuber/Streamer avatar, compatible with Built-in, HDRP, and URP shaders.

How to design a 3D model for dating games for your project?

You can use "Unity Assets - Gamer Girl" to design your project.

It includes three levels of detail with varying face, triangle, and vertex counts. The rig supports third-person animations but does not include them. Customizable parts feature blend shapes for various body adjustments and hairstyles.

"Unity Assets - Gamer Girl" Samples:

The model supports facial mocap and conversation animations, includes facial expressions, and is tested with ARKit Apple Blendshapes. Textures are PBR with 4K resolution across nine sets, offering multiple default and customizable colors for clothes, eyes, and hair. The model is modular and includes a fully detailed body texture, with censored nude versions. Note that blueprints are not included.
