Aescripts – CuttanaNir v2.0 (Win, Mac):

Toolkit to create write-on animations

What's CuttanaNir?

It includes all the tools needed to create precise animations written on!

"Text to Shapes"

It separates text into the essential forms needed to show each one at a to create writing-on effects

"Cutting & Slicing a path"

The cross-section is divided into the vertical "-" or vertical "|" shape by choosing four points along the route.

Of course, it's also possible to choose only two options.

You can also choose one location and then cut the path either in the down, up left, right or left direction.

"Path to Shapes"

It divides layers with multiple paths into several layers that share a single path.

"Creating Animations"

When you select the start and end points the animation will automatically be generated.

The animation is made using a "path trimming" expression and "slider control" keyframes.

This lets you effortlessly alter the speeds and timers.

"Sequence layers based on the letter"

The layers will be sequenced according to the name of the layer.

New Changes:
