RetroSupply Co Photo Toaster: Here's how you can give your photos the 1950s A ILLUSTRATED EFFECT IN PHOTOSHOP

The style of illustration is typical of 1950s advertisements. The style is distinguished by its high-contrast shades, a rough texture with subtle halftones, and prints with little flecks.

The method of doing this was to do it making use of a variety of filters and brushes manually.

Combining filters, blending modes, and brushes you can create an authentically illustrated style. The only drawback is that it could take many hours.

There's also no assurance that it will be effective.
