ICity Addon is a powerful tool for creating detailed cityscapes efficiently through procedural generation and an extensive asset library.

How to design accurate and efficient urban landscapes using tools?

You can use "Blender Market - iCity" to design your project.

It simplifies the workflow by providing foundational assets and allowing users to add more as needed. The tool enables effortless city shaping by transforming layouts into detailed buildings and streets using procedural systems. Its dynamic generation feature ensures each city build is unique. The Procedural Road tool allows for the quick creation of roads with adjustable features. ICity's procedural building system and expansive library offer endless architectural variations, eliminating repetitive tasks. Pre-made building presets can be customized further. The imperfection system adds realistic details like garbage, leaves, and puddles for a lived-in feel. Overall, ICity provides diverse, customizable assets for crafting unique cityscapes tailored to individual creative visions.
