Aescriprs Bleed v1.6.0: The attached addon for After Effects allows creators to construct horrifying visuals, including cutting, teasing, and promotional videos.

This particular after-effect was built with Brady from Texturelabs, making it more straightforward while maintaining realism when generating text or image bleeding effects without using keyframing. One can also have complete control of the animation, sound, and even the style of the video or the image, allowing for maximum output with minimal hassle.

- Dripping Blood Effects We can effortlessly apply bleeding effects to the text and images.
- Animation Control Works without the use of keyframes. Allows for looped animations for any desired length. The blood-dripping speed is adjustable.
- Customizable Parameters Density, color, and pressure can be adjusted for different and unique effects. Various scene mods offer creative freedom.
- Sound Effects (SFX) The in-built sound effects use blood dripping speed as input in the sound manually, which is changed dynamically. The speed automatically alters the volume.
- Color Control Controllers for color are embedded in the mainframe, so the user has more ease during customization.
- User-Friendly Interface The user is provided with complete control without complex settings, as they can use simple ones.
