Say you own a listing of a birdsong, wolf howl, or flaking crack which has been listed close-up, and you would like to utilize it as a featured event so that each detail could be appreciated. Trouble is, if you don't provide some sort of backdrop, the recording will seem ungrounded and imitation, like the creature or weather occasion, was in outer space. Every noise requires a house. You are going to want to include Quietudes from a suitable habitat to keep an awareness of place in your creation.
