Transfusion Aims to create Style Transport more reachable by porting it to After Effects. It is the first tool that makes AI (Artificial Intelligence) Style Transport accessible for practically any movement designers and video editors. Currently available for Mac and Windows.

Transfusion Designs: Our First application, designed to create fast Style Transfer available in After Effects. We use machine learning algorithms that learn how to make visual-friendly patterns in which we predict a Style. As an individual, you are able to load this Style package in After Effects during our convenient plugin.

Transfusion Combination: More Adaptive, Blend is an improvement to the Transfusion package which enables you to Opt for a personalized style input by choosing another layer in After Effects. Different AI training could be chosen according to your image type
