Devolutions Remote Desktop Manager (RDM) is the premier solution for streamlining and securing remote connections within the IT industry. By centralizing remote connections, managing passwords, and implementing robust access controls, RDM addresses the complexities IT professionals face in managing and controlling access to various servers, computers, and devices across different locations. With support for various protocols and VPNs, RDM offers a comprehensive platform for securely sharing connections among users and teams, enhancing productivity while mitigating risks.

RDM's key features include remote connection management, enabling users to securely centralize, manage, and launch all remote connections from a single platform. The platform supports various technologies, including RDP, SSH, VPNs, and more, ensuring flexibility and compatibility across different systems. Devolutions Remote Desktop Manager also simplifies password management by storing credentials in a secure vault and facilitating the organization's secure sharing of administrative passwords.

employs granular protection access control, two-factor authentication, and account brokering to safeguard connections against security threats and insider attacks to fortify security. Furthermore, RDM offers fully integrated features for teams, allowing easy sharing and user administration, along with support for multiple data sources and user-specific vaults for privileged account management. With mobile access, offline mode, and integrated virtualization consoles, RDM ensures ease of management and accessibility across various environments, empowering IT teams to operate efficiently and securely. Moreover, the Devolutions Remote Desktop Manager facilitates audits and generates customized reports to monitor user activities, ensuring compliance and accountability within the organization.
