It happens often when you're putting together an amazing angle... It happens that you spot one, and you want to want to investigate another angle.

Are you annoyed by having to navigate through and out of the way to see from afar, and then you're back in the same spot every time?

Do you ever wish you could snap those angles and flip them without having to click and then animate?

Yes, there is a way to. And easily! simplicity!

Flexibility The Panel can be displayed as an NPanel and Properties Panel via the addon options.

A user-friendly interface The interface is exceptionally clean and created to make it easy to use

- Simple one-click solution to add bookmarks.
- It recognizes the 3D perspective and creates an image bookmark or a camera bookmark. There is no requirement to consider it. It is able to store almost all information about the camera, or view.
- Animations are unaffected and bookmarks are kept with the file.
- Simple restore regardless of camera type or type of perspective.
- The simple interface is a deceivingly simple task. There is nothing to do other than click restore and it will automatically switch camera types and resets all settings that were saved in the bookmark.
- Update Bookmarks that update on the move
- Have you found a new favorite angle for this bookmark? Just press the up arrow and update it!
- Management that is effortless
- You can make any number of bookmarks you'd like, in any type. The management of them is simple by simply naming them and update them or deleting them easily.
