the parallel is an animated typeface using an incorporated pc user-interface that enables one to assembled and optimize the animated font.

The ribbon is constructed with controllably styled pairs of parallel lines. You can Correct the weight and color of both groups. You may even zero line weight to create 2 more fonts that are minimal. The parallel is intended to constantly be as legible as possible -- even once you push the minimalism. And, there is an Offset to allow you to select the style in a different awesome direction entirely.

Parallel animates from default. The UI Permits You to set staggering in order to Can exactly the time the cartoon letter. Time undo a backup to reestablish out (not a part of the UI, but easy to do).

Proudly constructed with comp code: comp code is a tool for After Effects users to flip comps and layers Into code and also for template contractors to quickly package any endeavor into sharable After consequences scripts.
