X-Files Components Package v7.5 (25 Feb 2021) for D10.4 Sydney + Crack

2024-12-18 23:03:30　　label 我要反馈　　下载页面

去下载

标签

Components　　VCL　　Delphi

X-Files Components is described to be a bundle which includes a set of essential components present for the user and developer that are basically intended for the programmers of the database. This bundle is the principal portion of the bundle which belongs to the components of X-Files. On the other hand, the bundle of X-DB Data Components was created in order to immediately use the data breaches founded as well as the structures along with the data element of the dB aware, particularly along with the component of TXDBGrid. X-DB Data Components package basically contains the following advantageous in the users and developers.

- It permits the user and developer in order to print all or even the selected rows and the parts of the report.
- Previewing the selected draw along with the report part is permitted.
- It permits the user to show reporting the designer mode.
- It has a customizable multiline page header and page footer along with page title and page a legend.
- There are a lot of variants of the system data present for the user.
- It has the ability to support the alignment of the report as well as the process of report modification during the runtime.
- It also has a unique support for the process of grouping the records.

TXDBGrid. X-DB is considered to be having a complementary component which is designed for the dynamic process of report creation on the basis of the current setting that it has. This component has the ability to print as well as preview the content in the component of the TXDBGrid and also has the ability to create a complete report which depends on the selected paper size setting chosen by the user. It has certain components which permit the user for the easy definition of the new data set as well as the data providers for the personal classes especially when the user has the ability to easily define the generic dataset that are based on the user classes. The default provider of the data has the ability to automatically create field for the properties that are basically the right from the persistent plus just like the margin, fonts, constrains, as well as the touch. It should be added that each dataset from the package is capable of supporting the standard operations just like the process of reading and writing, inserting and editing, deleting and locating, filtering and mastering the detail.

产品数量
已有 42647个

付费会员
已有 1676位

价值评估
商业价值约 ￥6635.87万元

下载数量
已下载 222908次