Blender Market - Quick Studio:

Renga Professional is a multidisciplinary Building Information Modeling (BIM) software designed for AEC specialists, offering integrated tools for architectural design, structural engineering, MEP, and construction.

Ideal for medium to large design firms, development corporations, and individual professionals, it supports collaborative work on large-scale projects. The software enables architects to create and modify conceptual prototypes, refine interior and exterior designs in 3D, optimize space planning, and adopt efficient structural concepts. It facilitates accurate material calculations, detailed apartment floor plans, and the application of textures for rendering and photorealistic illustrations.
