Emergence, a new application for Corel Painter offers a distinct approach to creating expressive brush strokes. Highly customizable Paper Grains are the basis of the brushstrokes created by Emergence. These 35-grain types are provided with Emergence giving you a vast selection of possible textural options. Inverting this grain's range of dynamic there are a total of 70 variations in the textural form are possible. The result is an expressive and vibrant textural painting space.

Emergence brushes employ Dynamic Dabs which are combined using the present grain. There are six apertures to choose from with each one offering distinct stroke styles.

Emergence brushes make unique use of pressure. When pressure is low brushes paint transparent. As pressure increases it changes the brush to the color. This innovative arrangement allows brushstrokes to switch between opaque and opaque in a single stroke.
