There are many colors available. However, we only have one name for certain colors. Red, yellow, green, or brown. But red can be transparent but also has some transparency. What do you call this? This is known as red velvet. The story doesn't end here. After naming the color, it is now time to create this color. While primary colors are always available for use, it is up to the paint experts to create unique colors. We have developed a "red velvet" color for you, which is a combination of all the elements of velvet. This color was created using our years of experience. Use the pretzel bucket to sprinkle on your photos. Before downloading, please read COMPATIBILITY. We cannot refund or exchange your purchase.
