Gumroad - bartoszystyperek - Draw Xray:

The Xray Overlay Addon for Blender 4.2+ enhances the retopology workflow by providing a transparent and customizable retopology overlay on top of the mesh, allowing users to visualize their retopology mesh more effectively against a high-poly model.

It is designed to identify areas where the retopo mesh protrudes or sinks beneath the high-poly surface, a feature not well-handled by Blender's default retopo overlay. The paid version offers advanced tools like a custom snap engine and retopo stroke tools for precise mesh adjustments.

Visualization: Clearer overlay compared to Blender's default, highlighting mesh interaction with the high-poly model.

Customizable Overlay: Control face overlay color and opacity.

Mode Support: Works in Edit, Sculpt, Paint, and Object modes.

Modifier Support: Option to draw with or without modifiers applied.

Custom Snap Engine (Paid):

Advanced snapping based on mesh curvature.

Prevents mesh shrinkage from subdivision modifiers.

Snap target settings for all scene objects, single targets, or collections.

Retopo Stroke Tools (Paid):

Quad Stroke: Draw and extrude a single-edge strip.

Strip Wrap: Wrap strips around joints.

Strip Stroke: Draw and extrude multiple edges at once.

F2 Addon Fix: Includes a patched version of the F2 addon for compatibility with DrawXray.

Cons:

Slower performance due to Python coding instead of native C++.
