Original Master Pack From Cinecolor.io: CINECOLOR is very proud to Provide a package of post-production completing tools created for expert use.

Our color grading LUTs are loosely Harmonious with footage from virtually any camera, and then provide a daring, but the elegant effect - not over-stylizing your final picture. The entire assortment of LUTs covers your whole pipeline from foundation grade to innovative appearance construction, movie emulation to completing, and everything between. Most filmmakers say it is the only place they require.

Our Film Grain is hands Crafted frame with frame, with scans from actual motion picture movie, and improved using a proprietary post-production procedure which yields unmatched outcomes. We are sure it's the funniest movie grain on the current market and are pleased to provide it in each gauge - like 65mm, the very first of its type.

From individual filmmakers to style photographers, big Post-production homes to freelancer colorists, our completing tools have Been utilized by tens of thousands of creatives to significantly boost their visuals Without sacrificing artistry.
