Blender Market – Procedural Flowmap v2.0: Revitalize Static Textures with the Enchanting Power of Flowmaps

Usage:

- Asset Integration:
- Easily incorporate the Flowmap folder as an Asset Library in Blender Preferences, seamlessly integrating it into your workflow.

About:

- Geometry Nodes Modifier:
They are crafted with geometry nodes for Blender versions 3.6 and 4.0, ensuring compatibility and optimization.

Release Update:

- Procedural Flowmap v2.0:
- Interaction and Collision Enhancements:
- Added functionality for interaction and collision with external objects.
- Expanded Mask Options:
- Introduced multiple types of masks for intricate material blending.
- Trim Curve Animation:
- Added the trim curve option for animated flow adjustments.
- Radius-Based Mask Control:
- Implemented curve radius-based mask width for enhanced control.
- Optimized Node Tree:
- Improved node tree for increased speed and real-time responsiveness.
- Effortless Procedural Flowmap Generation: Seamlessly generate procedural flow maps for any texture, whether sourced from an image or created procedurally.
- Precise Flow Direction Control: Take absolute command over the flow direction by manipulating curves to achieve desired results.
- Real-time, Fully Procedural Generation: Experience flow map generation's dynamic and real-time nature, equipped with extensive artist controls for instant adjustments.
- Easy Export Functionality: Effortlessly export generated flow maps for seamless integration with other software applications.
- Interaction and Collisions with External Objects (New): Explore new dimensions with added features for interaction and collisions with external objects, enhancing the depth and realism of your compositions.
- Multiple Masks for Material Mixing (New): Multiple masks are introduced to facilitate intricate material mixing, offering enhanced flexibility in your creative process.
- Free Updates Forever: Enjoy perpetual improvements with free updates, including the latest Flowmap v3.0.
